Employee Surveys Made Easy

Every human resource professional knows that a company is only as good as its employees. That's why it's so important to get employee feedback and quickly respond to their needs, their ideas and suggestions.

If you could read your employees' minds, you'd have higher retention rates, lower absenteeism, improved productivity, better customer service and better morale. While mind-reading remains in the realm of sci-fi, you can do the next best thing: ask employees what they're thinking using our employee survey software.

"Grapevine is an easy-to-use survey management system that enables me to implement and manage my research program effectively and keep an up-to-the-minute snapshot of my surveys."

*Sharon Valencik, Director of Research
The Telecom Intelligence Group*
